ST. JAMES DISMASTED

AMERICAN VESSEL FROM NEWCASTLE IN HURRICANE

Sailed on Friday--Was Damaged on Friday -- Made Fair Passage --Her Former Commander

Here.

The experience of the American bark St. James, which arrived here yesterday partly dismasted, is liable to confirm the superstitious sailor man in his belief that Friday is an unlucky

The St. James sailed for this port from Newcastle, Australia on Friday, May 17th, under most favorable auspices. She made good progress for thirteen days, but on the second Friday after sailing, she was partially dismasted and came near foundering, in a terriffic hurricane off the coast of New Zealand.

Everything was going smoothly up to the afternoon of the 20th of May, when it came on to blow, and seeing that nasty weather threatened, Captain Topley had sail shortened to almost bare poles, to be in readiness for the breaking of the storm. In the part of the world where the vessel was storms of great suddenness and violence are often met with, and sailor-men are always on the lookout for trouble. Be ginning with Friday morning, May 31st the wind and sea incrdeased in violence and the ship lost what sails were or her, they being blown to shreds. To set a sail in the weather prevailing would have been sheer nonsense, and the ship without anything to steady her, wallowed in the trough of the sea until it looked as if she would roll her masts out. Soon after her sails carried away, her fore royal-mast snapped off, and was followed by the main top-gallant, and mizzen topmast which with their yards and gear came hurtling to the deck. The mass of wreckage on deck washed about by the great seas that came aboard time and again, made it dangerous work for the sailors who were working for dear life to clear the debris away and free the vessel. Many narrow escapes are reported but luckily no serious injury was received by any member of the crew. The storm passed away as sud denly as it came, and the day after the damage the good ship was in fair weather again. Considering her reduced sail power she made a fine pass age being only 55 days on the whole

The St. James is one of the trimmes looking vessels ever here. She was formerly in command of Captain Banfield, now of the steamer Hawaiian who is also a part owner in her. She was built at Bath. Maine, in the year 1883. She is a vessel of about 150 gross tons; is 218 feet 5 inches long; 41 feet 3 inches beam, and 23 feet 7 inches depth of hold. New York is her home port.

OFFICE OF CARROLL WHITAKER ATTORNEY, HAWAII.

Hilo, Hawaii, June 7, 1901.

Dear Sirs:—In my innocence I purchased here in Hilo a jar of your PinMoney Pickles (put up by Mrs. E. G.
Kidd, Richmond, Va). It brought me great trouble, and one of three things
must occur. must occur:

You must stop making them; or,
 I must get them at less expense;

3. I'm a ruined man 3. I'm a ruined man.
Since my first venture I've had many
"jars." My family from early morn cry
"Pickles;" neighbors ring the door-bell and shout "Pickles;" relatives visit me in expectation of "Pickles." Your pickles are my Nemesis. Please, Dear
Sirs, quote them by the Keg. Barrel,
Hogshead, Ton or Shipload, and "preserve" me.

Yours very truly, CARROL WHITAKER.

MAUI PYTHIANS_DANCE

Wailuku, July 6.—The grand ball given by the Aloha Lodge, Knights of Pythias, at the Walluku court house last Wednesday evening was by far the most brilliant affair given on Maui for years. The hall of justice was converted into a banquet hall, flags of all nations hanging on the walls while shields representing the mysteries of the local lodge were also hung on the walls. Evergreens freshly taken from lao valley were hung across the room. Music was furnished by the Walhee Glee Club. J. Walsh was floor man-

There were nearly two hundred peo ple present which was 100 more than the capacity of the hall. The gowns of the ladies were quite beautiful. Everybody enjoyed themselves thoroughly, A cold supper was served at the Maul hotel at midnight. The dance broke up at about 3 o'clock.

CLEANING THE STREETS.

To make the asphalt pavement less slippery, the Boston Street Department is experimenting on the system prevailing in Paris. The experiment is being made on Tremont street, and includes the thorough flushing and washing of the asphalt surface every night with a 2½-inch hose and the removal of all refuse matter by rubber scrapers. The work is expensive, as the labor of eight men is required on the section under trial; but Street Superintendent Wheeler says that he already sees some benefit arising from this thorough cleaning. Asphalt is to be laid on several of the main streets of Boston, with wooden block pavement on steep grades; and these tests are being made to remove objections, if possible, to the being made on Tremont street, and in to remove objections, if possible, to the slippery nature of asphalt.—Engineer-ing News.
